Detailed Action

1. The drawing changes filed 01/21/05 have been approved.
2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 9, 11 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

It is unclear how the cam is constructed and what structure the cam engages to cause the shoe area to compress against the shoe-receiving region.

Applicants' remarks regarding this rejection have been carefully considered but are not deemed persuasive. It appears to the examiner that the rotation of cam 320 would lift sides 322 and not spread them apart since the cam 320 when rotated would push against the lower ends of sides 322 causing them to rise pushing the bottom of slot 312 in 301 against pin 308 by pushing the bottom edge of 302 upward and not push side 322 against sides 324. Clarification is required.

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

6. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hirooka in view of Japanese reference 11-269907 or vice versa.

It would have been obvious to provide tower 9 in Hirooka with a pin and bracket 24 with a receiving surface and pin area and to size the tower to fit over the bracket in view of the teaching in the Japanese reference (figure 2). This would be a standard reversal of parts.

It would have also been obvious to provide a subframe and bracket and bracket in the Japanese reference in view of the teaching in Hirooka (elements 14 and 30) to enhance the toughness of the device in the Japanese reference.

Applicant's comments regarding this rejection have been carefully considered but are not deemed persuasive. Hirooka comprises a tower that fits into a bracket and the Japanese reference comprises a tower that fits over a bracket. One of ordinary skill in the art would view these arrangements and readily determine that the arrangement in the Japanese reference is an obvious reversal of the arrangement in Hirooka and could be substituted therefore. As for providing a second bracket and subframe in the Japanese reference, i.e., the second rejection, this structure is taught by Hirroka and its use in the Japanese to enhance the toughness in the Japanese reference would be well within the purview of one having ordinary skill in the art.

7. Claims 13-16 are allowed.

8. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
